

A Visit to the John H. Quigley Tennis Center

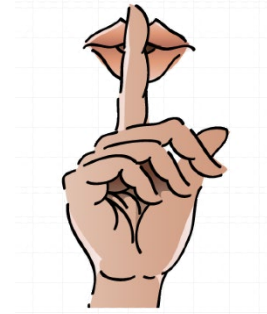

Today, I am visiting a recreation facility called the John H. Quigley Tennis Center!
At the Tennis Center, I will use:

Walking Feet

Listening Ears

Inside Voices

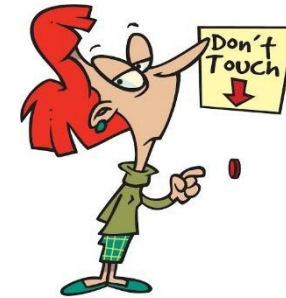

I will also:

Stay near my family

Be polite to others

Follow directions

The entrance to the Tennis Center can be very loud with bright lights. It is okay to wear sunglasses if it is too bright. The person at the desk can answer questions and help.

The recreation area is a good place to sit while waiting for a tennis activity to begin, or to play ping-pong.

The patio is a good place to relax and have some quiet time.
This is where meeting can be held or group gatherings.

The tennis courts are where tennis lessons or matches are held. They are top of the line clay courts.
